Factory worker wins art prize

Tina Bradden was born in 1945 and grew up in a block of flats in Manchester. She was the youngest of a large family of seven and her family was quite poor. Her father worked in a local factory and her mother worked as a cleaner. Neither of them made much money so sometimes it was difficult to feed their large family.

1. She left there at 15 and went to work in the factory her father worked in. It made plates.

2. They commemorated special events like the Queen's birthday.

At first, Tina hated the factory. 3. Every day was the same. However, as time went by, she began to enjoy it. This happened when she was allowed to work on the special plates. She found she liked working with colours. Initially, she had to follow instructions and use the colours she was told to use.

4. As a result, she was given more freedom to choose the colours she liked. The factory owners were very pleased because she helped to make their plates well-known. 5. She continued working in the factory until the mid-90s when it closed down.

With no job, Tina decided to continue painting and has been painting ever since. 6. Shortly afterwards, Tina Bradden won the famous Arta prize. She says she was so happy to receive it and will continue to paint as long as she can.

- A Then the manager realised that Tina was very talented at painting plates.
- B They were her favourites.
- C Tina went to the local school.
- D To reward her for this, Tina was made artistic designer.
- E Some of her work was shown in Manchester Art Gallery.
- F Some were ordinary dinner plates and some were quite unusual.
- G He told her to stop.
- H The work was boring.

Reading Part 3

Read the four texts below. There are ten questions about the texts. Decide which text A, B, C or D tells you the answer to the question. The same text may be used more than once. The first one is done for you.

A

We're so excited. We got our InterRail tickets today. We'll be off soon. We went for the shortest period as we've only got three weeks' holiday. Shame as it's better value if you buy one for longer. We thought Zeynep might not be able to get one, but if you live in a European country for at least six months you can and she's been here over a year now!

B

The InterRail Global Adult Pass is available in first and second class. The first class has better seats. Adult Passes are for travellers who are 26 or older on their first day of travel. The child fare (minimum age 4 up to and including 11 years old on the first day of validity of the pass) entitles children to a 50% reduction on the price for adults in either class.

C

Would you like to enjoy unlimited travel around Europe? Or do you want to discover one specific European country? Select your own itinerary. InterRailing is the budget-friendly way to experience Europe. The two main options are the InterRail Global Pass, allowing endless rail travel within 30 different European countries, and the One Country Pass which lets you explore one European country of your choice by train! InterRail is for you!

D

Our initial destination was Crailsheim, near the border between the southern German states of Baden-Württemberg and Bavaria. We reached it using a variety of trains – Eurostar, Intercity with air conditioning, and local trains with lavatories which revealed the rails speeding by below – and with changes at Brussels, Cologne (where we enjoyed a quick, albeit not cheap, al fresco meal stopover under the spires of the cathedral) and Stuttgart.

Which text:

1. describes a journey?
2. encourages people to travel by train?
3. provides information for people who do not come from Europe?
4. suggests InterRail is a cheap way to travel?

Which text gives you the answers to the following questions?

5. Are there different levels of comfort with different tickets?
6. Can I travel on different types of trains?
7. Must I choose a time option before paying the fare?
8. How many types of Global Pass can you choose from?
9. Do you need to decide your destination before choosing your ticket?
10. Are there any age restrictions to buying a pass?

Reading Part 4

Read the text and answer the questions. Write a maximum of three words for each answer.

An example is done for you.

What's onAmerican Teen

USA – 2008 – 95 minutes – documentary

This is the story of a group of final year American high school students. The film follows their lives over a period of 10 months as they prepare to graduate. Each character is very different: one is pretty, one likes sport, one is studious and another is popular. Maybe they are just a little too different to be real!

Slumdog Millionaire

UK – 2008 – 120 minutes – drama/romance

18-year-old Jamal Malik, from the city slums of Mumbai, is about to answer the final question of the Indian version of the quiz 'Who Wants to Be a Millionaire?' The police don't believe that this uneducated tea-boy can win 20 million rupees, so they arrest him and question him about how he answered every question. He explains how he did it and then wins the quiz.

Flame And Citron

Germany – Denmark – 2008 – 130 minutes – drama/history/thriller/war

This is a Danish Second World War drama about two fighters in a resistance group. The local people are hoping for a fast end to the war, but two men code-named 'Flame' and 'Citron' secretly risk their lives fighting in the underground movement. They think they're on the right side, but events, and a mysterious woman, change their opinion.

Surveillance

USA – 2008 – 87 minutes – crime/thriller

Two FBI agents are investigating a series of roadside murders in a small US town. There is a lot of action, but at the end of the film, we have little or no idea 'who did it' because everybody lies, even the police.

The Young Victoria

UK, USA – 2009 – 104 minutes – period drama

Victoria is a teenage beauty, but her life isn't easy because her mother wants to control it, so she isn't free to do what she wants. When she becomes Queen, her life becomes very lonely, that is until she meets, falls in love with and marries Prince Albert.
